RAF 'Bombs' U.S., Says British Press

LONDON (UPI)—British newspaper and radio reports said yesterday that British jet bombers successfully penetrated the U.S. air defense network a few weeks ago in a simulated H-bomb attack that caught the American early warning system napping.

A U.S. spokesman called the reports "a lot of nonsense." A British spokesman said such an exercise was staged more than a year ago but declined to discuss the results.

London newspapers said 600-mile-per-hour Delta-winged Vulcan bombers, the RAF's most modern striking force, staged a mock H-bomb attack a few weeks ago that pierced U.S. defenses and "bombed" New York, Washington and other key cities.

After a lengthy inquiry, the Air Ministry confirmed the bombers took part in such an exercise "around Oct. 14, 1961." But a spokesman said "it is not policy to state whether exercises are successful or not."

Legislator Alquist Plans All-Out Fight

Democratic freshman assemblyman Al Alquist, sworn in only yesterday, is already in the thick of the Sacramento political stew.

Alquist, one of three new lawmakers from Santa Clara County last week pledged an "all out fight" to stop a proposed new state college in San Mateo, the construction of which would put a crimp in SJS plans for expansion.

Alquist's "all out fight" statement brought sharp reply Sunday from Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi, (R. Redwood City), who is pushing a bill to construct a new state college in his district.

Britschgi, a four-term Sacramento veteran, apparently plans an "all out fight" of his own. "I'll enjoy teaching him (Alquist) the facts of life," Britschgi snapped Sunday. "For a new hand, he ought to take a look before he opens his mouth."

Alquist reported Sunday that he expects cooperation from Santa Clara County's other assemblymen. He said that he has discussed the matter with Assemblymen George W. Milias (R. Gilroy) and William F. Stanton (D. San Jose), and that they seemed to be in agreement with him.

Under the overall development scheme of the state college system, a new campus at San Mateo would take the place of any large expansion plan at SJS.

Officials here recently unveiled a suggested masterplan which would extend the boundaries of SJS to Santa Clara Street on the north and E. William Street on the south. If a new college is built in San Mateo, the SJS plan will probably be shelved.

Alquist hit at the high cost of duplicating core buildings at a new campus, and added: "even more important are the intangibles of faculty, administration, educational tradition, and reputation achieved by SJS over the past 100 years."

Britschgi said Sunday that he has alerted Southern San Mateo County real estates boards to look around for possible campus sites of from 100 to 300 acres.

'Threepenny Opera' Is Classic Film

The final classic film showing for the semester, "The Threepenny Opera," in German with English titles, will be shown tomorrow at 3:30 in the Concert Hall and at 7 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Set in London during the final years of the 19th Century, the film has been called a social satire. It is considered to be one of the greatest productions in film history and is often listed among the "top ten."

The film is directed by G. W. Pabst. Music is by Kurt Weill and Bertold Brecht.

Classic film showings will be resumed next semester under the direction of David D. Cram, coordinator, Audio-Visual Service Center.

U.N. March To Take Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The central Congolese government yesterday created a special mission to take over administration of secessionist Katanga Province and its rich copper and cobalt resources.

A formal document signed by Premier Cyrille Adoula called for central administration and financial control over Katanga as United Nations troops seized more territory there in a drive to end the province's secession.

A Swedish contingent of U.N. troops was reported here to have reached the Katanga town of Kamina, 115 miles north of Kamina Air Base.

No resistance was reported at Kamina, a U.N. spokesman said, and the local chief was said to have assured the United Nations of his cooperation.

Kamina is located near Lubilash Bridge which links Katanga with the northern part of the Congo in the direction of Leopoldville. The center wooden span of Lubilash Bridge was blown up by retreating Katangese troops last week.

In Elisabethville, U.N. Undersecretary Dr. Ralph J. Bunche conferred with U.N. military commanders on wiping out the remaining resistance from Katanga President Moise Tshombe and his troops.

A Katanga communique said Tshombe, reported to be in Kolwezi, 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville, had met with members of his "general staff" to discuss guerrilla action against the U.N. forces.

A Ghana news agency dispatch reported that Tshombe was willing to return to Elisabethville if Britain and France offered him guarantees for his safety.

Bunche, a former Nobel Peace Prize winner, told newsmen he regarded Tshombe's days of power as ended.

Tshombe has tried for two and a half years to establish an independent Katanga state.

MOVERS MOVE MOVABLES—The Division of Education finds a home and so do a multitude of files, records and books being transported into the new Education Building by a van. The four-story concrete building is located on the southwest corner of Seventh and San Carlos Streets and cost $2,299,000, including equipment.

Junior College on Ballot In Local Election Today

California's mammoth junior college system may soon boast a new $13 million school if the voters in Los Gatos, Campbell and Santa Clara High School districts pass today a proposal that would join them in a junior college district.

In another part of the county, residents of Live Oak and Gilroy High School districts go to the polls today to decide if they want to link up with San Benito High School in a junior college district.

San Benito currently operates a small junior college at Hollister. Should the west side measure pass, an approximate 20-cent tax rate hike is anticipated. Taxpayers now pay 34.3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Wendell Huxtable, Santa Clara Elementary and High School District Superintendent, said yesterday he "expects an 80 per cent

ASB Committee To Study Revelries

An open hearing of the Revelries Board vs. Student Council controversy will be held by the Constitution and By-Laws Committee of the council in the College Union today at 2:30 p.m.

According to Pete Briggs, graduate representative to the council and chairman of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee, the special hearing was called after numerous protests were received concerning the council's disbanding of Revelries. The council repealed in October that section of the ASB Constitution which authorized "Revelries" as a part of the annual college activity program.

NO ACTION TODAY
Purpose of hearing, remarked Briggs, is "to hear the arguments of the Revelries Board and then make a recommendation to the Student Council following discussion of the material gathered." The committee has no power to act, but it will make a recommendation to the Student Council as to what the situation calls for—reinstatement of the board and of the event, no change in the council's disbanding action or further investigation, said Briggs.

Fire Burns Tale of Woe For Senior

And you think you have hard luck with finals coming up!

Alfred C. Erickson, senior honor student, husband and father, was going to his mother's to pick up a baby crib. He ran out of gas on the way. It was late in the evening and he hadn't had supper.

While getting a can of gas, he stopped at a coffee shop near the gas station to have a cup of coffee.

When finishing the last gulp the police entered the shop and asked for Mr. Alfred Erickson.

As he learned from the police on the way to where he was parked, vandals had made short work of his car by setting it on fire via paint thinner poured throughout the interior.

A motorist in a pick-up truck stopped and tried to halt the blaze with his auto fire extinguisher but a young man kept hindering him by closing the door and yelling "let it burn." The unhelpful youngster disappeared before the police arrived.

About $350 was the estimated damage to the interior of the car and although it was covered by insurance... his briefcase enclosing three text books, completely read and underlined in preparation for finals, complete Medieval History notes for General Education 170, 25 ditto copies and the ditto for a lesson plan, and a Business 171 term paper, had been stolen and no amount of money could "cover" them.

"I'm sure whoever took the case thought it had money in it or something valuable to them. I'm hoping they don't destroy it and throw it away—at least I'll have a chance of recovering the material in that case," he added.

And without that briefcase, Erickson is faced with the dilemma of how to study for finals, and how to keep completing his work until the end of the semester.

"I imagine my grades will suffer, but I hate the thought of being helpless and forced to do an incomplete job," emphasized Erickson.

Dr. Heath Quells Dead Day Rumor

A rumor that no classes will be held Wednesday, Jan. 16, the day preceding the beginning of finals, was squelched by Dr. Harrison F. Heath, SJS testing officer.

"Dead Days are Jan. 14, 15, and 16," he said. "No examinations or term papers may be given on these days and no social activities will be allowed. However, all classes will meet regularly, with normal lectures, up to 10 p.m., Jan. 16."

Dr. Heath remarked that no examinations will be given nor will any classes meet the morning of Thursday, Jan. 17, except as approved by the Examination Committee.

"Finals begin at 1 p.m., Thursday," Dr. Heath stated, "and they will continue through 12:20 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 24."

All petitions for changes in finals schedules must be completed before finals begin. Arrangements must be made with the Examination Committee, Adm. 230, according to Dr. Heath.

Lawyer, Medico Discuss Abortions Tomorrow Night

The pros and cons of therapeutic abortions, technically illegal by California law, will be the controversial subject examined by a doctor and an attorney tomorrow night at 8 in Allen Hall's recreation room.

The Santa Clara chapter of the Citizens Committee for Humane Abortion Laws (CCHAL) is providing the speakers. Each speaker will be allowed 10 minutes to argue her point and then the program will be open to questions from the floor.

John Simas, SJS graduate student, will act as chairman for the event. Nancy McCall, M.D. from San Jose Hospital, will take the pro side and discuss possible changes in the law. Marilyn Pestarino, a San Jose attorney, will talk against changing the current law.

The CCHAL's main purpose is to have a serious study made of the existing abortion laws and to ask that the statutes be made more flexible so as to include more cases for therapeutic abortion.

The program is open to both student and the general public.

IFC Rush Meet At Dorms Tonight

Spring rushing for the fraternities officially begins February 8, but the Greeks are beginning preliminary publicity tonight at the men's dorms.

Each member fraternity of the Interfraternity Council will send two representatives to the dorms to explain the Greek system. The men will gather informally with the dorm-ites at 10 p.m. in the separate dorms. Interested men will have the opportunity to inquire about individual houses.

The kick-off event for all rushes on February 8 will be a reception in the Spartan Cafeteria.

Student Released From Hospital

W. Keith Marshall, 19, sophomore mathematics major who was injured in a car-motorcycle accident Friday afternoon, was released from San Jose Hospital Sunday.

According to Hospital officials, Marshall was treated for possible shoulder injuries and a possible concussion.

The student was injured when his motorcycle struck the rear of a stopped vehicle on Fourth Street, between San Fernando and Santa Clara Streets. The driver of the other vehicle was unhurt. The car was stopped to let another car back into a parking place.

African Seminar Setups Discussed by Editor

"Our job was to set up seminars in three countries in Africa to satisfy the need for journalistic training," explained the editor of the Palo Alto Times, Alexander Bodie, concerning his recent visit there.

Bodie made this statement during a "mass interview" held jointly by the Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternities, last night.

A tall, gray-haired man, Bodie presented a picture of confident composure and amiability as he animatedly told the story of his two-month visit with the Africans.

Bodie reported to Washington one week before departure for Africa to meet three other members of the team, representing different regions of the United States.

"We were well received in all the countries, and many times we were surprised by the high level of journalism in the towns we visited," stated Bodie. "None of us had too much time before the trip to have preconceived ideas about the situation."

The African editors attending the seminars were selected by the United States Information Service. "Our major difficulty was with the language; they spoke British English and couldn't understand us, especially the editor from southern Missouri!" emphasized Bodie.

"Many editors had to contend with government-owned newspapers and consequently had censorship problems for fear of the firing squad," recalled Bodie.

"Our funniest experience was in Ethiopia—the people thought one of our editors was the Emperor's son-in-law and would either stand at attention or run away," laughed Bodie, crinkling the corners of his blue eyes with a huge smile.

"I think the effect of our trip was good, we made many lasting friendships, and it was rewarding because they gained in journalistic proficiency. We could see the improvements and know we were helping their lives and the understanding between two nations' peoples," said Bodie.

PERU CRUSHES RED REVOLT

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—The government yesterday stepped up what it described as "Operation Clean-up" to foil the threat of a Communist-inspired revolt in Peru.

Although official statements said "about 300" agitators had been seized throughout the country, other sources placed the number at between 700 and 1,000 persons.

The scope of the clean-up apparently choked off efforts of extremists to spark strikes in protest against the government. The explosion of a small bomb under a police truck early yesterday was the first violence in nearly 60 hours.

Business activity was normal in Lima, Callao and Arequipa. Five thousand members of the leftist-led Bank Workers Union reported for their jobs as usual although on a so-called state of alert.

The government used cars, trucks, trains and aircraft to transport agitators to remote corners of the country for interrogation. Police agents moved with full authority under a state of siege proclaimed Saturday.

DAM CONTRACT AWARDED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department has awarded an $85.9 million contract for construction of San Luis Dam in California, Sen. Clair Engle, (D-Calif.), announced yesterday.

The contract, which Engle termed a "major milestone" in development of the Central Valley Project, went to Morrison-Knudsen, Inc.; Utah Construction and Mining Co., and Brown and Root, Inc. Boise, Idaho, was given as the address of all three firms.

Expanded Production Cuts Prices For Common Market Consumers

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a five-part series on the European Common Markets, its accomplishments and future.

By DIANE JUDGE
Last year a leading Paris department store displayed products to show how much prices had been reduced as a result of the Common Market. Italian raincoats that had cost $22 in 1958 now cost $6. German cameras had been lowered from $145 to $78.

The Common Market means that manufacturers can produce for a larger market and can therefore cut costs and lower prices. The key is the removal of tariffs inside the member states, which permits products to be sold as if there were no national borders.

Other results can be seen in the six-member countries besides lower prices. The market has produced a new class of business leaders who are helping to combine national tastes into a unified pattern. There has been a virtual abolition of borders and there is a pervading Pan-European atmosphere.

CHAIN STORES

France and Germany have united to build a chain of gasoline stations. The first "European" steel mill will be financed by Belgian, French, Dutch, Italian, and Luxembourg investors.

Italy's Fiat manufacturers have automobile assembly plants in Belgium and West Germany and plan to expand to all six countries.

EFTA

Some non-member nations have retaliated by forming a league of their own. In 1960 Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland, Portugal and Great Britain formed the European Free Trade Association. Unlike the market, they have no plans for a unified external tariff, although they do plan to abolish internal tariffs within 10 years.

Russia is also feeling the results of the market. She buys much of her machinery from Western Europe and cannot afford to buy without selling goods in Europe. This is becoming much harder to do as the common external tariff goes up. The market is also acting as a deterrent force to Communist expansion in Europe.

U.S. REACTIONS

The United States has found several ways to meet Common Market competition. One has been for U.S. manufacturers to build their own plants within the tariff wall. Many car and camera companies are doing this. Another has been for an American firm to license market members to manufacture and sell products.

But the best solution seems to lie in the Trade Expansion Act passed in July, 1962. This act, which shapes the foreign trade policy, has three main provisions:

1. It permits the President to negotiate reductions in tariffs by as much as 50 per cent of the rates on July 1, 1962.

2. It gives special authority to the President to reduce or completely eliminate rates on products which the U.S. or the Common Market countries are the principal suppliers.

3. It lets the President negotiate a reduction of 50 per cent or more or eliminate duties on products of which Common Market members are the biggest customers if such action will maintain or expand exports.

TARIFF BILL RESULTS

This new tariff bill puts the U.S. in a strong competitive position with member nations.

The Common Market is now prepared to negotiate low or zero tariffs on practically all products. Probably it will take two or three years to settle tariff rates.

The Common Market and the U.S. together produce an overwhelming part of all goods, and eliminating existing tariffs between them would also eliminate tariffs for the rest of the world. For then there would be no need for an external wall, because there would not be any great competitive country outside the tariff agreement.

The political and economic possibilities that could result from such an agreement between the market members and the United States are endless.

'Radio Subcommittee Utterly Irresponsible'

The utter irresponsibility of most legislative committees allegedly concerning themselves with subversion in this country is exemplified by the present investigation by Senator Eastland's internal securities subcommittee of subscriber-sponsored radio station KPFA-FM of Berkeley.

KPFA apparently has aroused the wrath of the committee by broadcasting the full range of political opinion, including, upon occasion, that of Dorothy Healey, Southern California chairman of the Communist Party.

The only legislation that could possibly result from such an investigation would involve an abridgement of free speech as guaranteed by the Constitution. But it is highly unlikely that the committee has any intention of seriously proposing any such legislation.

Senator Eastland and his colleagues realize that in the present atmosphere of fear and suspicion, their investigation will serve to inhibit free thought and discussion. These conservative senators can thus achieve their goal of political conformity without the aid of legislation which probably would be judged unconstitutional in the courts.

Any Californian who believes that free expression is an ideal worth preserving in our great country should feel compelled to protest the committee's action to Senators Kuchel and Engle.

Workshop Readies Scenes From Two Famous Operas

Tickets are currently on sale at the Concert Hall Box Office, in the lobby of the Music Building, for the SJS Opera Workshop's presentation of the second act of "The Barber of Seville," and Act IV of "The Tales of Hoffmann," Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Edwin C. Dunning, assistant professor of music, will direct 17 student singers in the two highly contrasting operatic presentations.

Rossini's "Barber," one of the gems of comic opera literature was supposedly written by its composer in the brief time of only two weeks.

The central character of the opera, the barber Figaro, also appears in an earlier opera, Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro."

Robert Cunningham will sing the role of Figaro in the workshop presentation, with William Kritlow as the pompous Dr. Bartolo.

An opera of an entirely different sort is Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann."

Offenbach's libretto, his only serious opera, is a series of three macabre love stories revolving around the central character, Hoffmann.

In each love affair, Hoffmann's chance for happiness is ruined by the satanic Dr. Miracle, who appears in each episode.

Hoffmann will be sung by Howard Budwin, with Fred Scott taking the role of Miracle.

Curtain time for the Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening performances will be 8:15.

Ticket prices are 50 cents for students and $1.50 for general admission.

The box office will be open from 1-5 p.m.

Saffold Dunks 24 Points As Frosh Stun Pacific

San Jose State's frosh basketball team entered WCAC competition in dynamic fashion Saturday, as it frolicked to an easy win over University of Pacific's junior varsity, 74-37.

S. T. Saffold, 6-3½ forward, turned in a brilliant 24 point performance to lead the Spartababes to their sixth victory in eight outings.

Coach Danny Glines' SJS five shot out to a 9-1 lead in the first five minutes of play and never trailed. Pacific's defense tightened and managed to keep the score reasonably close at the intermission, 31-22.

With Saffold leading the way, the Spartan yearlings broke the game wide open early in the second half. Only six minutes were gone in the half when San Jose surged out to a commanding 48-24 advantage.

The SJS reserves enlarged the already substantial margin.

Guard Pete Newell Jr. sunk six field goals to account for 12 points, while pivotmen Frank Tarrantis and Jeff Goodere tallied nine and eight points for the winners.

In all, eleven San Jose players broke into the scoring column.

Friday night at Berkeley the Spartababes won a squeaker over the Golden Bear frosh, 58-55, in a contest which proved to be a re-conditioner after the long three-week layoff.

Goodere was especially effective for SJS, as the 6-6 center hit eight field goals and five free throws to lead both teams with 21 points. Goodere connected for 13 of the 21 in the first half.

Saffold kept the locals rolling in the second half, as he swished through four goals from the floor for eight points. He managed only one goal and one charity toss in the first half.

Saffold and company will test the St. Mary's freshmen this Friday at Oakland, and then return home to meet Cal again the following night.

With their first WCAC league contest under the belt, the Spartan cagers will face St. Mary's Friday night in Oakland's Civic Auditorium. The contest will be the second league game for both teams. St. Mary's opens its schedule tomorrow night against UOP.

Although the Spartans had an off night offensively, they were still able to chalk up their first WCAC win over the Tigers of UOP. Eddie Sims, who hit 15 points for the Spartans was also a big man on the boards as he pulled down 12 rebounds, tops for both squads.

Bill Robertson with an 11.1 points per game average and Dennis Bates with 10.8 lead SJS in that category with Sims right behind with 9 per game. Robertson is the top point man with 144, while Bates has 140.

Al Janesi has the best field goal average with a .526 per cent. He has scored 18 out of 34 attempts. He rates third among the regulars in free throw per cent with .652.

Robertson and Bates are the leaders in free throw percentage with .683 for Bates and .677 for Robertson and Bates has a respectable .422 field goal average, while Robertson has a low .306 per cent.

Sims has recorded a .446 percentage from the field while substitute forward Mel Simpson has an impressive .462 average. As a team the Spartans are averaging .368 of their field goal attempts and .634 of the free throws.

The SJS opponents have a .375 field goal average and .686 free throw per cent. The difference for the Spartans thus far has been the fact that they have averaged almost nine shots per game more than the opposition.

The Spartans are currently tied for the league lead with a 1-0 record. Santa Clara won its opener against Pepperdine in Los Angeles 75-74, in overtime. Bob Warlick of the Waves scored 27 points in a losing cause. In the other WCAC contest, USF downed Loyola 69-49.

Top Spot Up for Grabs; Phi Sigs, Theta Chi Duel

The Phi Sigma Kappa-Theta Chi intramural basketball game shapes up as the top battle of the year tonight in Men's Gym and the Pi Kappa Alpha No. 3-Nicators duel heads the bowling action this afternoon at Alma Bowl at 3:30.

Both the Phi Sigs and Theta Chi squads are undefeated so far in fraternity league competition with 4-0 records. The two powers are tied with PiKA, which meets Sigma Pi tonight at 8:30.

If the Sigma Pi five bumps off PiKA, either the Phi Sigs or Theta Chi could be the sole holders of first place after tonight's games.

Another PiKA team, the No. 3 bunch, goes into bowling play today trying to hold onto its slim lead over the Nicators. It is the second time the two teams meet, and this time may give the PiKA's a two game advantage if it wins two of three matches.

Other basketball games tonight includes Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Delta Upsilon at 7:30, Lambda Chi vs. Sigma Nu at 8:30, and the Theta Xi-Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Sigma Phi-Sigma Chi tilts at 9:30.

Three other bowling matches are contests between the DU All-Stars vs. Sig Eps No. 1 teams, Theta Xi No. 1 and ATO No. 2 squads and the Theta Chi No. 3 and House of Lee teams.

Spartan Judoists Win Novice Meet

Four San Jose State students won honors in the Northern California AAU Novice Judo Tournament in Santa Rosa Sunday.

The top winner for the Spartans was Art Honda who took first place in the 140 pound division. Steve Osborne took second and Ron Rosso took third in the unlimited class. The other Spartan placing in the top three was Ken Dyer who took second in the 180s. The Spartans won the unofficial team title.

Club Plans Mexico Tour For January

Spartan Tours, formerly the Tour and Campfire Club, is sponsoring a nine-day trip to Ensenada, Mexico, during semester break.

On the way down, the group will tour a Hollywood motion picture studio, Griffith Park, Forest Lawn, Marineland, the UCLA campus, Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, and many other points of interest in the Los Angeles area.

Also scheduled is a side trip to Catalina Island.

Cost of the trip will be $92.50, which is half of what it would be on an individual basis, according to the club's release.

All SJS students are invited to participate in the trip, but space is limited and they are urged to sign up early.

Further information about the tour may be obtained at M204, extension 2180.

Machines May Modify Old Spelling Traditions

Changes in the way we spell may result from typewriters that can take dictation. This is the prediction of Edith Crowell Trager, associate professor of English, to a national meeting of the Modern Language Association in Washington, D.C., recently.

Being developed by International Business Machines and Radio Corporation of America, as well as by companies in Switzerland and Japan, the machines make a record of spoken language in phonetic symbols. These symbols are automatically translated into something like the spelling we actually use—which is a long way from phonetic.

The machine, much like a child who is learning to read—could be enormously simplified if sounds were spelled the same way every time.

Professor Trager urged the association to take the lead in providing such "systematic spelling."

It could be based on the logical and simple way we spell such words as "tab," "wing" and "jog," she proposed.

She predicted that "No spelling reform that changes 'mother' and 'love' is going to get very far."

Professor Trager added that "no spelling reform that would make us abandon the alphabet that we've used almost unchanged for over a thousand years can possibly succeed."

Marketing Speech

"Black Market Operations in Russia" will be the topic of a talk this evening by Stephen H. Hill, assistant professor of marketing at SJS, before the American Marketing Association.

This final meeting of the semester will be held at 7 in room A of the cafeteria.

PROFITABLE PRESSES

NEW YORK (UPI)—American university presses are really humming. During the past five years, revenues have shown a 14 per cent increase annually with 1961 sales topping $17 million, compared with $1 million in 1940, the American Association of University Presses reports.
